

Villa On Move As Federals Hunt Him

Following the entrance into the field of federal columns from Jimenez, Santa Rosalia, Ortiz and Olan, with the object of his capture, Francisco Villa has gone south from Las Varas on the Rio Conchos down the Rio Florida east of the Mexican Central, according to late news received in Juarez Wednesday evening.

The movement for the capture of Villa started Tuesday and the volunteers took the field simultaneously under orders of General Douglas Andrade, who is maintaining headquarters at Jimenez.

Villa has only a small number of troops, estimated at about 200 to 300 men, and it is presumed that it will be his object to elude the federal columns without a battle for the present.

Enoch Given Up.

General J. G. Encobar, commander of a brigade, who has been at Concho station and Santa Rosalia on the Mexican Central recently, has been ordered to Mexico City and will not take part in the campaign against Villa. He left Concho station for the capital Wednesday. He will be given another assignment, it is reported.

Two days before the federal movement against Villa started, General Torres of El Paso, who has been working for the past few weeks to bring about peace between Villa and the federal government, told a conference with Villa near Mexicali, according to reports received in Juarez Wednesday. The conference, held on Sunday, was with the sanction of the Mexican military authorities. Mr. Torres returned from Mexicali City after the failure of his original mission, with the intention of inducing Villa to agree to terms that would be acceptable to the Mexican government.

Armistice With Villa.

According to the address received in Juarez from Chihuahua City on Wednesday, Mr. Torres arranged an armistice with Villa that was to commence at 12 o'clock Sunday evening. The official notice of this armistice was to be communicated to military authorities in Chihuahua by the secretary of war and marine. Apparently on such notice has been received, as federal columns are now in the field in order to capture the rebel chief.

General del Sur, leading newspaper of Chihuahua City, in its issue of Tuesday, received in Juarez on Wednesday, gives notice of the reported armistice arranged by Mr. Torres, and announces that hostilities will cease for the present.

Juarez military authorities received news of the movement late Wednesday evening. Villa had been in the vicinity of El Paso de Conchos on the Rio Conchos for a number of days until driven out last week by federal cavalry. He then crossed to the east side of the railroad at Las Varas.

It is reported airplanes have arrived at Jimenez to take part in the campaign against Villa.

Sporting Editor of Times Lambasts Floyd Briggs

"The picture in the last issue left me when Cyclone Briggs threw the club down in the scheduled semi-final in which he had fought me to have fought with George Baker. Briggs lacks a school, but of being a real sport. He is not what he is in the way of terms from the Fort Bliss Boxing Association and then, at the last minute, backed out of the bout. Briggs should never be permitted to box at Fort Bliss again. He is the first man of the 24th colony of boxers to ever put a dent in a boxing contract."

El Paso Times.

The Courier still believes in Briggs. He has not shown up as yet with his explanation as to why he "went out" with Babe Cabell Monday night, but The Courier believes his story will hold water.

Anyone who saw the Briggs-Baker fight a few weeks ago will hardly believe Briggs was afraid of Cabell. He took everything Briggs had and while his shade was by a sea-bath, he wrote. The Courier will wait for Briggs' story anyway before it accepts the El Paso writer's story.

Misjudged Distance; Had His Back Broken

ANTHONY, N. M., July 23.—Francisco Miranda was taken to the El Paso county hospital Wednesday suffering with a broken back and internal injuries as a result of being crushed on top of a load of hay. Miranda was driving a wagon loaded with hay into the South New Mexico Farmers' Association barn, and the hay was piled higher than usual, not giving the man room to pass. He was in a stooping position when the accident occurred. Miranda was employed by Wright Edmondson, a local farmer.

Stirling was rendered unconscious by his fall when the car went over and was taken to his home and medical aid was summoned. While he was badly injured and cut about the head by the fall it is thought that his injuries will not prove serious.

Mr. Lopez was in charge of the engine and although he was badly shaken up and bruised about the head it is thought his injuries will not prove serious. A large bolt on top of the rail is supposed to have caused the accident.

She describes the scenery as wonderful but not enough to keep her from returning to Columbus and the Sunshine state in the near future.

Gambling Looking.

A Gambling Hot, who has been writing for the Courier for some time under the heading "Gambling," evidently has sprung a leak, as his contributions lately have taken up like the water in a Ford radiator. If he would put his spark up higher and take his foot off the brake, and also keep to the highway instead of getting on the curbing, he would make it on high all the time without being compelled to have punctures vulcanized, and thus his column would appear as usual.

Pythian Sisters Need Nursery.

The Courier reporter, in making his rounds yesterday afternoon, had an experience that needed an explanation which fortunately he reported in time to relieve his over-weighted mind. It seemed that wherever he passed or called the babies and children were out of sorts if the father was near, by he was cross, too, and the reporter received very few civil answers from either mothers or fathers. The explanation was easy enough when he was informed that yesterday was the day the Pythian Sisters met. That was enough.
